

Manuscript Evaluation Form

Manuscript Evaluation Questions:

1. The title is clear and reflects the article

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

2. Abstract clearly presents objects, methods and results

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

3. The introduction provides sufficient background information

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

4. The purpose and information of the articles are clearly defined at the end of the introduction part

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

5. Methods and materials are adequate

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

6. Data, results or other findings are correctly discussed

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

7. The expressions in article are correct

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

8. Supplements (table, figures, pictures and photographs) are necessary and clear

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

9. Conclusions are valid and logically derived from the results

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

10. The manuscript is written in proper English ( spelling, grammar and punctuation)

Excellent                       Good                       Fair                       Poor

Quality Classification

- Original       Valuable       Just Useful       Poor

Reviewer Recommendation for Publication

- Accept as submitted
- Accept with minor revision
- Accept with major revision
- Revise – either major or minor
- Reject

Reviewer Report:

Reviewer

Name:

Scientific Rank:

Address:

E-mail:

Date: